

NORTH DAKOTA

The Department of Health in North Dakota received $88,991 in federal funds for abstinence-only-until-marriage programs in Fiscal Year 2007.¹

North Dakota Sexuality Education Law and Policy

North Dakota does not mandate sexuality education nor does it address what can or cannot be taught in sexuality education classes. The state also does not have a suggested curriculum.

North Dakota does not require parental permission for students to participate in sexuality or HIV/AIDS education nor does it say whether parents or guardians may remove their children from such classes.

Recent Legislation

Title V Abstinence-Only-Until-Marriage Funding

The North Dakota Department of Health received $88,991 in federal Title V abstinence-only-until-marriage funding in Fiscal Year 2007. The Title V abstinence-only-until-marriage grant requires states to provide three state-raised dollars or the equivalent in services for every four federal dollars received. The state match may be provided in part or in full by local groups. In North Dakota, sub-grantees provide the match and, in addition, the communities they serve provide a number of in-kind services that are counted toward the match. The North Dakota Department of Health oversees the funding and retains 30 percent for the salary, benefits, and travel of the program coordinator.

There are four sub-grantees in North Dakota: Community Action Partnership, Dickinson School District, Make a Sound Choice, and the Northern Lights Youth Services.

The Northern Lights Youth Services operates programs in both North Dakota and Minnesota. The organization's abstinence program is called "Reality Check."⁴

Make a Sound Choice is run by FirstChoice Clinic, a crisis pregnancy center. Crisis pregnancy centers typically advertise as providing medical services and then use anti-abortion propaganda, misinformation, and fear and shame tactics to dissuade women facing unintended pregnancy from exercising their right to choose. On its website, Make a Sound Choice says, "People have different understandings of God. Whatever your present beliefs may be, there is a spiritual side to abortion that deserves to be considered. Having an abortion may affect more than just your body and your mind—it may have an impact on your relationship with God. What is God's desire for you in this situation? How does God see your unborn child? These are important questions to consider."⁵

Community-Based Abstinence Education (CBAE) and Adolescent Family Life Act (AFLA) Grantees

There are no CBAE or AFLA grantees in North Dakota.
